Monthly Market Commentary

Risk assets rebounded in November with developed equity returning 9.4% in dollar terms. Fixed Income rallied as well as rates dropped over the month as inflation came back softer than expected with investors expecting end of the hiking cycle. Within rates US 10 year led the way, roping by 0.57% over the month. UK and European rates followed a similar trajectory, with UK 10 year dropping by 0.34% and German bunds by 0.36%. On the credit side, spreads tightened for most credit asset including Investment grade and sub investment grade debt. Emerging Market debt in local currency on the other hand saw a small widening in spreads, reversing the tightening we say in October. Within Equity, US and European equity appreciated the most with EM following suit, marginally underperforming their developed counterpart.

In line with the benchmarks the portfolios generated positive returns over the month. All profiles marginally outperformed their respective benchmark by 2-4 bps. On a year-to-date basis, the portfolios are lagging their respective benchmarks by 0.3% to 0.4%.

The overall active returns were small over the month. Our strategic risk on positioning and preference for Equity over Fixed Income benefitted the portfolio as equities performed strongly over the month. Also, our preference for credit assets was a positive contributor as well. High Yield and hard currency emerging market debt outperformed the fixed income benchmark. On the other hand, our underweight to nominal government bonds and US treasuries detracted from the performance. Active Managers also had a mixed month. While the European and US equity manager (BlackRock), and sub investment grade managers (Neuberger Berman and Payden) had a positive month, GQG US equity underperformed and detracted over the month.

Over November, we made small changes to the portfolio. Within Fixed Income we expressed a preference for High Yield bond over Emerging Market local currency whereas within Equity we sold Emerging Market debt and invested the proceeds into US equity.

The three portfolios continue to be positioned with a slight risk on generating an active risk between 1.1% and 1.3%.

1Risk based on 230 exponentially weighted monthly observations (36 month half life). 2Benchmark is composed of 25% MSCI All Country World Index (Net Total Return) and 75% BBG Global Index (USD Hedged). 3Benchmark is composed of 50% MSCI All Country World Index (Net Total Return) and 50% BBG Global Aggregate Index (USD Hedged). 4BenchAggregatemark is composed of 75% MSCI All Country World Index (Net Total Return) and 25% BBG Global Aggregate Index (USD Hedged). 5Since inception as at 18th August 2020

Monthly Market Update November 2023

Monthly Market Commentary

- Global markets demonstrated broadly positive returns over November. Inflation decreased in the US and other regions, leading to hopes that interest rates reached their peak. Developed market equities were up 8.3% over the month. At a regional level, European equities returned 6.9%, while US equities and Japanese equities ended the month at 9.4% and 6.0% respectively. Emerging markets increased by 8.0%. During the month, developed market bonds delivered positive returns. US treasuries and UK gilts both increased by 3.4% and 3.1% respectively. In currencies, the Euro appreciated by 3.2% relative to the USD, while Sterling appreciated by 4.3% against the USD.
- In the US, headline inflation fell to 3.2% year-on-year from 3.7%, while the core inflation reading fell to 4.0% in October. The biggest driver of the decline was a fall in energy and gasoline prices. Minutes from the Fed's 1 November meeting indicated that the central bank still has concerns over the level of inflation and is determined to hold policy rates at elevated levels for an extended period. The US manufacturing PMI contracted to 49.4 in November. In Europe, headline inflation fell to 2.4% from 2.9% year-on-year, while core inflation declined to 3.6% year-on-year in November. Despite recent progress, the minutes of the ECB's last meeting suggested it remains vigilant to upside inflation risks. In the UK, headline inflation fell to 4.6% year-on-year in October, while core inflation dropped to 5.7% year-on-year raising hopes that the BoE may have finished its series of interest rate hikes.
- Fixed income markets showed positive returns overall. US 10-year yields fell from 4.91% to 4.34%, with the two-year falling from 5.07% to 4.70%. Germany's 10-year yield fell from 2.81% to 2.45%, whilst the 2-year yield fell from 3.07% to 2.82%. The UK 10-year yields fell from 4.52% to 4.18%, while the 2-year yield fell from 4.78% to 4.59%. Both US and European high yield delivered positive results. Global investment grade credit performed positively. Emerging market debt performed positively in both local currency and USD. Commodities delivered mixed returns, with crude oil falling by 7.8% while gold appreciated by 2.1%.

Portfolio Commentary

Conservative

The Portfolio returned 4.91% over the month outperforming its benchmark by 0.02%. On a rolling 3 month basis the portfolio has underperformed its benchmark by 0.07%. Longer term, Since Inception returns sits at 0.81% p.a. Risk assets rebounded in November with developed equity returning 9.4% in dollar terms. Fixed Income rallied as well as rates dropped over the month as inflation came back softer than expected with investors expecting end of the hiking cycle. Within rates US 10 year led the way, roping by 0.57% over the month. UK and European rates followed a similar trajectory, with UK 10 year dropping by 0.34% and German bunds by 0.36%. On the credit side, spreads tightened for most credit asset including Investment grade and sub investment grade debt. Emerging Market debt in local currency on the other hand saw a small widening in spreads, reversing the tightening we say in October. Within Equity, US and European equity appreciated the most with EM following suit, marginally underperforming their developed counterpart.

The overall active returns were small over the month. Our strategic risk on positioning and preference for Equity over Fixed Income benefitted the portfolio as equities performed strongly over the month. Also, our preference for credit assets was a positive contributor as well. High Yield and hard currency emerging market debt outperformed the fixed income benchmark. On the other hand, our underweight to nominal government bonds and US treasuries detracted from the performance. Active Managers also had a mixed month. While the European and US equity manager (BlackRock), and sub investment grade managers (Neuberger Berman and Payden) had a positive month, GQG US equity underperformed and detracted over the month. Over November, we made small changes to the portfolio. Within Fixed Income we expressed a preference for High Yield bond over Emerging Market local currency whereas within Equity we sold Emerging Market debt and invested the proceeds into US equity.

The portfolio risk stands at 7.57% while active risk is around 1.27%.

Specific	Idiosyncratic risk; that is, risk due to the unique circumstances of a particular security and not the market as a whole.
Alternatives	Measures the contribution to risk from holding alternative asset classes such as property, hedge funds or illiquid assets.
Interest Rates	The Scheme's liabilities and fixed income assets are exposed to interest rate risk which means that the values of these assets will change when there is a change to the level of interest rates. This illustrates the contribution to risk from the Scheme's liabilities which aren't offset by fixed income (matching) assets.
Spreads	Measures the contribution to risk from holding corporate bonds and swaps in the portfolio.
US Interest Rates	Measures contribution to risk from exposure to US interest rates.
Inflation	The Scheme's liabilities and fixed income assets are exposed to inflation risk which means that the values of these assets will change when there is a change to inflation expectations. This illustrates the contribution to risk from the Scheme's liabilities which aren't offset by inflation linked (matching) assets.
Others	Measures risks that are not attributed to any of the factors listed above. It includes but is not limited to risks attributed to convexity, and cash & cash equivalents.
