

WHY DO WE FORM SCABS WHEN WE HURT OURSELVES?

When you cut yourself, blood is exposed to the air and in order to protect you, the blood clots, preventing further blood loss. The clotted blood forms a scab that is like your body's own band-aid. Picking at your scabs undoes all your body's hard work to protect itself.

Disney
BE HEALTHY
BE ACTIVE